

Contents

1. History and context
2. The purpose of a jail
3. This quarter's highlights
4. The jail population remains near historically low levels
5. Most people in the New Orleans jail have not been tried or convicted
6. People who pose little risk are held in the New Orleans jail
7. Most pretrial defendants released to the community return to court
8. Most people who are released pretrial aren't arrested on new charges
9. Many jail stays are not strictly necessary
10. Arrests do not affect all communities equally
11. Black men are held in jail longer
12. Black men are overrepresented in our jail
13. Summary
14. Technical Notes
- 15.